DETAILED ACTION

Specifications

1. Please note that applicant has listed 45 claims on first page of application form. But specifications disclose only 35 claims. Clarification is requested.

Election/Restriction

2. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1-33 and 35 drawn to molecular circuits comprising nucleic acid molecules classified in class 536, subclass 24.1.
- II. Claim 34 drawn to a method of treating a subject by administering a pharmaceutical composition comprising an acceptable carrier and an expression vector to stimulate expression of gene of interest by applying heat treatment to the area of the subject in need of the protein, classified in class 514, subclass 44.

3. The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Invention I drawn to molecular circuits comprising isolated nucleic acid molecules and Invention II drawn to a method of use of the molecular circuit in a subject and stimulate gene expression by stress or heat application to produce the protein of interest in the subject in need of the protein, are distinct each from the other, since they are drawn to a product and a method of in-vivo treatment.

4. Inventions I and II are related as product and process of use. The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product or (2) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product (MPEP § 806.05(h)).

In the instant case the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process, such as in methods of gene therapy, as a therapeutic vector or as a nucleic acid probe.

5. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their separate classification or divergent subject matter, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

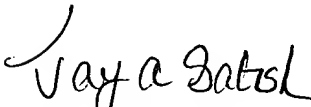

6. A telephone call was made to Mr Richard Sharkey on 11/19/99 to request an oral election to the above restriction requirement, but did not result in an election being made.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).
